ABSTRACT

COMMUNICATION SYSTEM AND METHOD

5 A communication system comprises means defining a communication region, such as a touch-pad (151), having associated therewith a plurality of symbols (155) or the like and being responsive to a user-controlled pointing 10 device whereby a desired symbol or the like can be selected by movement of the pointing device in a predetermined direction within the region (151).
